

The problem with this one is that an operator may not know what modes are of interest until they try it. I would not have bothered with CW if I had not been required to use it to get on the air as a TECH+ when 10 Meters died. I discovered that I enjoyed it so much that it is the only mode I use on all HF bands.